'McFarland USA' Cross-Country Runners and Coach to Speak to Madera South High School English Learner Students

Madera, Calif.- Madera South High School English Learner students will be visited by runners David Diaz, Daniel Diaz and coach Jim White whose 1987 state championship winning cross-country team’s story inspired the Disney movie “McFarland USA.” The guests will be sharing their motivational story with students.

“We feel that the McFarland USA movie tells the story of many of our San Joaquin Valley kids and believe this visit will have the greatest encouragement by positively impacting our students,” said Madera South High School counselor Benjamin Madrigal.
