"Home of the Tigers"

- a. Single Plan for Student Achievement (SPSA), 2017-18
 - i. Adalberto Hernandez explained teachers have been participating in planning days. Substitutes cover classes so teachers can meet during the school day. Teachers are analyzing data and planning for instruction. Books were purchased for classrooms and for teachers to use. Students are using these books to help with reading achievement. Classroom supplies were also purchased that tie to student achievement. Tutoring has begun. Marissa Chavez asked if tutoring is available to all students or just certain students. Adalberto Hernandez explained it is only available to select students who need additional support based on the teachers who are available to tutor. Marissa Chavez asked if it will become available to other grade levels in the future. Adalberto Hernandez explained there are funds available for more teachers to tutor and it depends on the availability of the teachers. Jennifer Nystrem explained that teachers discuss strategic ways to intervene and whether after school tutoring is always the most effective way to intervene.
9. Announcements
