Parent Engagement is the Key to Student Success!

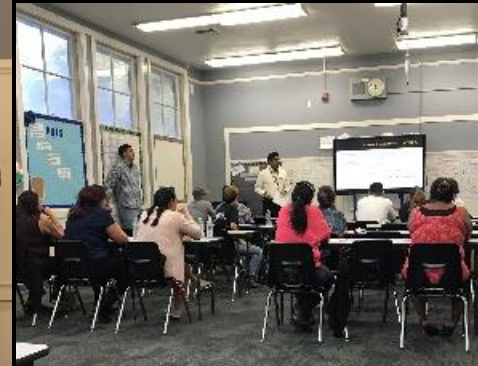

MUSD has developed a strong partnership with the City of Madera Police Department, Madera County Probation, Community Action Partnership of Madera County and the Madera Ministerial Association, to facilitate a national parent skills building project to help reduce dropouts, discipline referrals, teen suicides, and to empower the parental position.

MUSD hosted a 40-hour training the week of May 20-24 with the intent of building new capacity for new program facilitators to expand parenting skills classes and deploy into MUSD schools. A total of 31 new facilitators were certified and are prepared to teach parenting skills classes throughout our school community.

The Parent Project helps families address specific root causes of juvenile crime; truancy, family conflict, violence runaways, drug use, youth gangs and other behaviors in a concrete fashion. Participating parents meet one night per week for 10 weekly sessions using the Parent Project workbook. At the conclusion of the ten weeks, parents are encouraged to continue meeting in an on-going parent-let support group organized throughout the community.
